Copyright

The information e.g. photographs, images and illustrations (such as paintings, watercolours, prints), maps and plans (including technical drawings), diagrams, newspaper extracts, manuscripts, 3D objects (e.g. ships models) and sound and video recordings, graphics, artwork, text, animation (collectively called ‘Content’) contained in this Website is protected by copyright laws.

These copyright laws are the Copyright, Designs & Patents Act 1988 as amended. Copyright is one of several Intellectual Property Rights (IPRs) which also includes Patents, Trade Marks and Designs. Copyright can cover issues such as moral rights, database rights, publication rights, rental and lending rights and performer’s rights.

The site includes material under Crown Copyright. Crown Copyright works may be copied and reproduced without seeking prior permission, but should include an acknowledgement of the source and the copyright status. Please refer to the Guidance Note published by Her Majesty’s Stationery Office for more details.

The names, marks, images and logos identifying the partnership museums, and third party institutions, companies and individuals are proprietary marks of these organisations and may not be reproduced without their prior written permission. Anyone republishing material from the Understanding Slavery Initiative Website without permission is liable for any resulting infringement of copyright.

The website includes some materials that are not the copyright of Royal Museums Greenwich. Every effort has been made to locate the copyright holders in order to obtain the appropriate permissions and correctly attribute them. We welcome any information that would help us to update or complete our records.

If you wish to make a complaint regarding potential copyright infringement by the Museum, please fill out this form.

Disclaimers

The Understanding Slavery website and its content are provided on an ‘as is’ and ‘as available’ basis. To the extent permitted by law, Royal Museums Greenwich excludes all representations and warranties (whether express or implied by law), including the implied warranties of satisfactory quality, fitness for a particular purpose, non-infringement, compatibility, security and accuracy.

While we try to ensure that all content is correct at the time of publication, no responsibility is accepted by Royal Museums Greenwich for any errors, omissions or inaccurate content on the website.

The content of the website is subject to change without notice. If you cite the website as a reference, we recommend that you include the URL and the date you accessed it.

Every effort has been made to contact the copyright holders of materials included on this website. If you consider materials to be your copyright and have not been contacted by the National Maritime Museum, please contact us

On occasion, Royal Museums Greenwich will link to external websites for further information or comment. We are not responsible for the content or reliability of external websites, even when we link to them.

Royal Museums Greenwich does not warrant that the Understanding Slavery website will be uninterrupted or error-free, or that the website or the servers that make it available are free of viruses or bugs. You acknowledge that it is your responsibility to implement sufficient procedures and virus checks (including anti-virus and other security checks) on your personal computer to satisfy your particular requirements.

Limitation of liability

Royal Museums Greenwich shall not be liable for any losses or damages whatsoever, whether in contract, Tort (including negligence) or otherwise, arising from the content or the website.

Royal Museums Greenwich, for the purposes of this notice, shall include its departments, employees, partners, principals, agents and representatives and any third-party providers or source of information or data.

Non-permitted uses

Other than as expressly permitted by these terms of use, you may not copy, download, reproduce, publish, republish, post, transmit, modify, adapt, translate, manipulate, add to, delete from, adapt, distribute or otherwise use any content in whole or in part, in any medium without Royal Museums Greenwich's prior written permission or without the written permission of the relevant copyright holder. Unauthorised attempts to deny service, upload information, change information or to attempt to access non-public data from this service are strictly prohibited and may be punishable to the full extent of the law of England and Wales.
